Women's Riding Boots
Filed under: Fashion & Trends, Fall & Winter Trends — Tags: fashion trends 2011, shoes, Trends, women's fashion — Reply @ 11:18 pm

Riding boots are in this season. And if you are unfamiliar with these women's boots, think of tall horseback styled riding boots that come up just below the knee. These tall women's boots are available in different colors and materials with darker brown and black leather or synthetic leather being the most popular. Women's riding boots are high heeled and may also feature different lace up options and buckles. You can dress these up for chic office attire, or dress them down for a casual yet sexy night on the town. Wear women's knee-high boots ovetop tight designer jeans and wear with a ruffled or fitted cotton or linen blouse adorned with pearl or rope jewelry for a country urban look. Wearing women's knee-high boots ovetop jeans or pants will give you a taller, slender look. Leather riding boots also work well with flowing pattern dresses and skirts, and gaucho pants.

Nude makeup is one of the most winter makeup trends 2011. Bare gives you the flare this cold season and this trend is wearable day and night. This trend is timeless. Flash your natural beauty and put on the basics. What we like on these winter makeup trends 2011 is that they give you the natural and fresh look, and you can do nude makeup instantly. Try putting some concealer, clear lip gloss, or maybe a natural color of lipstick, and slip on some mascara. This latest makeup trend 2011 is easy to maintain.
